

Effective March 1, 2020

Gemini Risk Partners ("we", "us" and "our") are dedicated to preserving your privacy on our website. In this privacy notice, we explain how we collect, process, use, and disclose information gathered from your visit to this site. This policy applies to all visitors of our website www.geminiiriskpartners.com.

What Personal Data Do We Collect?

We do not collect any personal identifying information on our website. Unless you submit a contact form through our website "Contact Us" tool, absolutely no personal information is stored or collected about visitors to our website.

Non identifying information may be collected about your visit to our website that may help us identify how our website is functioning as a tool for our business. The type of non-personally identifying information we collect may include: Internet or other similar network activity, including browsing history, search history, data about a consumer's interaction with the website, application, or advertisement.

Emailing Information to Us

If you, as a visitor to our website, choose to email us through our Contact form or a link to an email, you may voluntarily provide contact or other personal information. This information may be used to process requests for and/or participation in Services offered by or through Gemini Risk Partners, including, but not limited to, from Service Providers. Such information about users also may be provided to and used by Service Providers (see Third Parties below.)

Third Parties and Information

If you send us information via the Contact form or an email on this website, it will only be provided to Third Parties specified on this website. If you do not want your information shared with any Third Parties, such as service providers, please do not provide personal information via the website. Personal information shared with Third parties may be used to conduct business, including, without limitation: 1) completing the transaction(s) requested by the user; and 2) serving users and/or reporting on transactions, activities, and services conducted with or facilitated by Gemini Risk Partners. We also may disclose such information to comply with the law or legal process; to exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims; to enforce Gemini Risk Partners' policies and/or to protect the rights, property or safety of others.

Security

Gemini Risk Partners uses industry typical security measures to protect personal information collected via contact forms and/or email. Such measures may change from time to time. We make no representations or warranties of any kind, express or implied, that such measures will protect all personal information collected, however we will make reasonable efforts to protect such information from unauthorized access.

Links to Other Sites

This website may link to websites of Service Providers or other business partners ("Linked Resources.") Each website of Linked Resources may have its own privacy and data collection policies and practices. Gemini Risk Partners is not responsible for the privacy and data collection policies and practices of any Linked Resources or for the content of their websites. Users interested in the privacy and data collection policies and practices of Linked Resources should review the policies of the websites they choose to access.

Gemini Risk Partners makes no claims whatsoever about the accuracy, timeliness, completeness, efficacy, merchantability, usefulness, fitness for any particular purpose or correct sequencing of information located at such websites. Linked Resources website links are provided solely as a convenience to users of this website.

Policy Changes

Gemini Risk Partners reserves the right to and may change this policy at any time without notice. Changes will become effective when the revised policy is posted on this website. You are encouraged to review this policy in order to stay informed about our privacy practices and policies.
